Long Beach Expo

COIN, CURRENCY, STAMP & SPORTS COLLECTIBLE SHOW

Official Program
June 6 – 8, 2019

Thursday 10 a.m. - 7 p.m. • Friday 10 a.m. - 7 p.m. • Saturday 10 a.m. - 5 p.m.

A Division of Collectors Universe, Inc. • NASDAQ: CLCT
Dear Long Beach Expo Attendee,

We are so happy to welcome you to the June Long Beach Expo! Thousands of the world’s top collectible dealers are just an escalator ride away and ready to do business with you. It doesn’t matter if you are interested in coins, currency, stamps, or sports collectibles, the Long Beach Expo has it all. This summer promises to be one for the books as our show attractions can’t be matched.

Tyrant Collection: Tyrants of the Tiber (Booth #1540)
You’ve probably heard about it before. The Tyrant Collection is back and better than ever. This unprecedented $30 million collection is entitled the Tyrants of the Tiber and features over 400 superb ancient Roman and Papal coins. The coinage in this collection ranges from Julius Caesar and the 11 other Caesars of long-ago Rome to the coinage of the Popes at the Vatican. See it to believe it as this collection tells unique stories chalked full of historical significance. If you are interested in the rise and fall of Rome or coin depictions of the Popes at the Vatican, this collection is a must-see.

Heritage Auctions (Booth #400)
Have you ever wanted to participate in an auction or see what it’s all about? Now is your chance. Every Expo, Heritage Auctions, official Auctioneer of the Long Beach Expo, hosts their world-class U.S. Coins Signature Auction. This event always has something for everyone so make sure you come down and attend the live auctions. Go to HA.com to view the coins ahead of time or stop by their lot viewing room to see the coins in person. If you are interested in consigning your coins to Heritage in their future auctions, go to booth #400 to get additional information.

PCGS Onsite Grading (Booth #401)
PCGS, the Official Grading Service of the Long Beach Expo, will be onsite grading coins as well as accepting take home submissions. Instead of paying to ship your coins to PCGS you can drop them off directly to them. Also, if you want a quicker turnaround time, consider using their onsite grading service. They always run great show exclusive grading specials, so go to booth #401 to see what they are offering.

PCGS Grading Competition (Booth #404)
Collectors, dealers and young numismatists can test their coin grading skills by competing in the PCGS Coin Grading Contest at the June 2019 Long Beach Expo. The collector/dealer with the highest score will receive a $1,000 grading credit from Professional Coin Grading Service and the young numismatist with the highest score will receive a gorgeous PCGS-certified Morgan silver dollar. See if you have what it takes to be the best! Go to booth #404 for additional information.

PSA Onsite Grading (Booth #1334)
PSA and PSADNA, the official sports collectible grading service of the Long Beach Expo, will be onsite accepting take home submissions in addition to their show exclusive grading specials. Save money on your shipping fees by attending the show and submitting directly to them. To determine what their grading special is this show, make sure you stop by booth #1334.
“Meet The Expert”
Sports Sessions
(Booth #1332)
Ever wonder how much the sports item in your garage will fetch you? You may be sitting on a gold mine! The kind folks at Memory Lane will be hosting their “Meet The Expert” event where you will learn about the value of your sports card, jersey, autograph, or memorabilia. Remember: The more you know about your prized collectible, the better business decision you can ultimately make. On Thursday, Friday, and Saturday from 11 a.m. – 12 p.m. make sure you bring your sports items to booth #1332 for this potentially life-altering evaluation.

Collectors Corner CoinSearch
Want to see a Long Beach Expo dealer’s inventory before the show begins? Collectors Corner CoinSearch is just the tool for you. CoinSearch allows you to browse a participating dealer’s show inventory and find coins directly for sale on the bourse floor. Simply go to m.collectorscorner.com and punch in the coin you are looking for. If there is a coin that matches your specifications, it will show you which dealers have them and what their table numbers are. Using Collectors Corner CoinSearch saves you a ton of time and allows you to plan your trip accordingly as you can view all the listed coins starting May 30th. Visit booth #923 for a live demo.

Kids Event Treasure Hunt (Booth #1168)
“Yarrrr Mateys” Pirate Megan will be back with plenty of prizes to plunder.
As usual the Kids Treasure Hunt takes place on Saturday, June 8th and is a big draw! Take your kids on an adventure to get the best of Pirate Megan and unlock some of her crew’s hidden treasure. Some of the prizes include holdered PCGS coins and holdered PSA pokemon cards... There’s also a chance to spin the wheel of treasure, so make sure you bring your kids on Saturday, June 8th from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. as this is a super fun and rewarding experience. Everyone wins!

Free Daily Coin and Sports Prize Drawing
(Information Desk)
Did you know that every day of our show, you have an opportunity to win a prized collectible? On Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 2 p.m., the Long Beach Expo hosts separate drawings for a special American Eagle One-Half Ounce Gold Coin and a signed authenticated sports jersey.

This June, we will have a Dodgers theme for the jersey giveaways. Winners of this daily giveaway will receive either a signed Kenley Jansen jersey, a signed Chris Taylor Jersey, or a signed Justin Turner jersey. To qualify for the raffles, make sure you preregister for our show at LongBeachExpo.com or register during our show at the Registration Desk. We hope luck is on your side! Winners must be present

Thank you so much for your participation at the June 2019 Long Beach Expo. We are excited to have you here whether it’s your first time or your 60th time, we value your attendance and hope your experience was top-notch. Please feel free to stop by our information desk or send us an email with ANY feedback! See you September 5-7, 2019 for our Fall show and help us finish off this year on a great note!

THE TYRANT COLLECTION
TYRANTS OF THE TIBER
EXHIBIT OF SUPERB ROMAN & PAPAL COINS

Julius Caesar and the 11 other Caesars of long-ago Rome, along with more than 400 other superb quality ancient and Papal coins from the unparalleled Tyrant Collection (www.TheTyrantCollection.com), are being publicly displayed together for the first time at the June 2019 Long Beach Coin, Currency Stamp & Sports Collectible Expo (www.LongBeachExpo.com).

One of the finest examples of the famous EID MAR (Ides of March) Denarius of 42 BC, depicting Brutus and marking the assassination of Julius Caesar, is in the “Tyrants of the Tiber” exhibit at the June 2019 Long Beach Expo. (Photos credit: Tyle Engleson, Goldberg Coins & Collectibles.)

Entitled “Tyrants of the Tiber,” this is the fourth exhibition in a multi-year series of different displays of portions of the extensive Tyrant Collection, described as the world’s most valuable rare coin collection in private hands.

“There has never been such an extensive public exhibit of exquisite, ancient Roman gold coins in Southern California,” stated Ira Goldberg, President of Goldberg Coins and Collectibles, Inc. (www.GoldbergCoins.com) in Los Angeles, California. Goldberg is one of the numismatic professionals providing guidance in assembling the wide-ranging Tyrant Collection of superb quality, historic U.S. and world coins.
“This unprecedented display encompasses the tyrants of Rome from the earliest Roman Republic portrait coins over 2,200 years ago through the Imperatorial and Empire Periods, and ending with the fall of Rome and the invading tribes. In addition, since the Vatican practically sits on the Tiber River, this amazing exhibit includes the coinage of the Popes,” explained Goldberg.

Most of the 400 coins in the exhibit are gold, including an extremely rare set of the famous 12 Caesars in gold with many of the coins recorded as the finest known. Goldberg described the set as “breathtaking.”

The entire Tyrants of the Tiber display is insured for more than $30 million for its inaugural debut.

Among the many highlights of the exhibit are:

- T. Quinctius Flamininus gold Stater, ca. 196 B.C., of the first living person to be depicted on a Roman coin. This nearly Mint State example is considered the finest of only eight known.
• Brutus, Proconsul and Imperator, 42 BC, EID MAR silver Denarius and probably the most celebrated of all the coins of ancient Rome. A portrait of Brutus is on the obverse with the reverse boldly exhibiting the celebration of the Ides of March murder of Julius Caesar. It is nearly Mint State and one of the finest examples in existence.

• Mark Antony and Cleopatra silver Tetradrachm struck in 36 BC in Syria. Cleopatra VII, the last queen of the Ptolemaic kingdom, remains to this day a colossal figure of legend as much as history. It is superb Extremely Fine condition and possibly the finest known example.

• Otho gold Aureus. He reigned only from January – April 69 AD. Struck at Rome and perhaps the most difficult of the 12 Caesars to obtain in choice condition. The Tyrant Collection coin is a superb, nearly Mint State specimen. Ex Metropolitan Museum, New York, and ex Boscoreale Hoard, 1895.

• Romulus Augustus, October 31 – September 476 AD, gold Solidus of Rome depicting the last line of Roman emperors in the Western Roman Empire. All the coinage of Romulus Augustus is scarce and the gold solidus are extremely rare. This nearly Mint State specimen is probably the finest in existence.

• Justinian I, 527-565, gold Solidus struck in Rome. During his reign, Italy was liberated from the Goths and North Africa was recovered from the Vandals. This very rare Roman mint example is magnificent Mint State.

• Pope Alexander VI, gold Doppio Fiorino di Camera, Mint State. Born Rodrigo de Borja and Pope from August 11, 1492 until his death on August 18, 1503. He is one of the most controversial of the Renaissance Popes, partly because he acknowledged fathering several children by his mistresses.

• Pope Innocent XI, extremely rare Quadruple Scudi d’oro. Nearly Mint State. Born Benedetto Odescalchi, his papacy was from 1676 to 1689. He is known in Budapest as the “Savior of Hungary,” and much of his reign was concerned with tension with Louis XIV of France.

• Pope Innocent XII, Quadruple Scudi d’oro, Mint State. Born Antonio Pignatelli, his papacy was from 1691 to 1700. Innocent XII appears as one of the narrators in Robert Browning’s long, 1869 poem “The Ring and the Book,” based on the true story of the Pope’s intervention during his papacy in a famous murder trial in Rome.

The owner of The Tyrant Collection wants to remain anonymous while he shares the collection’s coins with the public for their educational value.

Visitors to the exhibit (BOOTH #1540) can receive a free, illustrated educational booklet about this latest, amazing display. Detailed catalogs with information and illustrations about each coin in the “Tyrants of the Tiber” exhibit are available for $10 each.

You do it. I do it. Everyone does it. We are all guilty of it. Don’t deny it. If you’re a collector, you know exactly what I’m talking about. Stop coming up with your Pinocchio-style excuses and just confess before you can’t keep track of the lies anymore. It might be embarrassing, but it happens all the time. When it does, there are no witnesses in sight because the last thing you want is for anyone to see you in this vulnerable state. You open a mysterious package and then … there, in all its glory … is the latest auction catalog you’ve been waiting for. After seeing page after page of incredible collectibles, ones that are better than yours, it sets in. The deep dive into collector envy begins.

While there is no doubt the digital world has forever changed this process, there is something special about getting that physical catalog in the mail, sitting down in a comfortable place and then sifting through the pages. I know I’m not alone. No matter if you choose to use your mouse to comb through the auction lots online or your fingertips through the items in the auction book, we can be left with a wanting feeling. The auction business is a big one and one that has dominated the sports collectibles business for years as more and more items are sold via this route. Every auction season, we are inundated with a terrific array of collectibles to buy, or at least bid on.

After seeing so many spectacular items, lot after lot, sometimes it’s easy to fall into the trap of constantly focusing on what we don’t have or to become obsessed with how our collectibles measure up to the sometimes museum-quality relics that grace the pages. It can almost sound like what some women describe when they peruse magazines filled with images of models and a seemingly unattainable standard of beauty. When you began turning the pages, it was interesting and enjoyable, but by the end of the process you might start questioning how “beautiful” your collection is by comparison.

It’s an easy trap to fall into. Not only are countless auction items impressive on their own merit, but many of the catalogs themselves present the items in such a wonderful way. The collectibles are often showcased with the help of excellent photography and descriptive prose, so each lot is placed in a highly desirable light. That is, of course, part of the auctioneer’s job … to draw attention to the items so they can generate the highest possible price. Consignors are certainly appreciative of the effort and I think most non-consignors are as well. The time and money allocated to each lot and auction is a promotion of the hobby itself, and that is a good thing.

None of this is bad. It’s just important that we don’t let the feelings of appreciation escalate into some form of jealousy. There are always going to be auction lots that most of us can only drool over. A small percentage of collectors have the means to compete on the highest level. Even within that select group there is a limit to how far they can go in trying to own everything they like whether that is due to money, space or both. It’s healthy to dream about owning certain collectibles, even if that dream is a distant one. That is part of the kid inside us all. It can provide motivation or establish a viable, long-term hobby goal.

Personally, after viewing lot after lot and watching each auction close without any winning bids, I often get an uplifting feeling about what I already own. While the auctions are going, we are so focused on what’s up for sale that we tend to forget about what’s already sitting in our existing collections. When you take the time to appreciate the collection you already have, after so much time and effort was put into building it, the auction season can take you from a place of wanting to a place of solace.

This June, the Shanghai Mint in China will release a panda celebrating the 35th Anniversary of Panda Commemoratives at the Long Beach Expo. Included will be a 5 oz silver panda with a lunar year of the pig design by former U.S. Mint Master Designer Thomas Cleveland struck for the Long Beach Expo. This will be the first issue in a 12-year lunar series.

Smith Global Monetary is the distributor of the issue and along with the Long Beach Expo will be selling the pandas at the June show on a lottery basis. The mintage of 100 coins will be the lowest minted 5 oz silver coin of any kind ever minted by the official Chinese mint in Shanghai. The pandas will be available to those present at the show only and it’s expected to sell out quickly.

A limited number of coin tickets will be drawn each day of the Expo which includes the Dealer setup day on Wednesday. The initial issue price of the 5 oz coin will be $350 USD. To enter your name, please visit Booth #748 during the show.

One side of the coin will celebrate the Long Beach Expo and the Year of the Pig, while the other side will feature a Chinese panda in the wild with a number of vignettes of cities around the world where the Commemorative Pandas have been issued. The Long Beach side of the coin was designed by the famous coin Master Designer Thomas Cleveland. Thomas is well known for his designs at the U.S. Mint in addition to many other coin designs.

A gold commemorative celebrating the 35th Anniversary of Panda Commemoratives is scheduled to come out for the September Long Beach Expo. Also, on the schedule, a limited edition 5 Kilo coin along with other 2 oz gold coins.

A New Investment Opportunity: Trading Cards

The evolution of the trading card marketplace has introduced a viable option for individuals seeking an investment in tangible assets. With a largely fixed supply and seemingly pent-up demand, trading cards may enable serious investors to diversify their holdings and achieve a compelling return.

Although past performance is no guarantee of future results, trading cards have generated a competitive return on investment, even during periods of economic downturns.

Building Your Trading Card Portfolio

As with any investment, a participant in the trading card market should consider:

- Investment objectives, or a desired return on investment (ROI)
- Time horizon for achieving the desired ROI
- Desired liquidity vs. volatility vs. ROI
- “Sectors” or areas within the market as a focus
- Diversification among blue chip, fine art caliber and collectible trading cards
